

You didn't come this far to only come this far

You can blend in to a group of Spanish people making jokes, talking politics and fixing the world while you are having some tapas in Madrid. That's amazing!

Although, when you go home, you realise that you haven't been fully able to share everything you know. Let me help you polishing your very well-deserved proficiency and make people freak out when they find out that you are not a native Spanish speaker.

You'll see how fun that can be!

This is what you will learn as an advanced:

1. Tell stories in different temporal spaces.
2. Judge, evaluate and persuade.
3. Express doubt and reservation.
4. Relate, add information, and indicate oppositions.
5. Repeat, count and summarise what has been said.
6. Correct misinformation.
7. Express strangeness and wonder.
8. Express complaint, protest and arguments.
9. Ask, give and reject advice.
10. Make compliments and react.
11. Control of your speech (express yourself naturally and achieve very high levels of fluency in social, academic and professional areas.
12. Understand the main ideas of complex text on both concrete and abstract topics, including technical discussions in a field.
13. Produce clear, detailed text on a wide range of subjects and explain a viewpoint on a topical issue giving the advantages and disadvantages of various options.
